Relating to Part VI, Line 1a and 1b.

Your Members and Other Individuals and Organizations That Receive Benefits From You

1a - Individuals Benefiting

Life Skills Training Workshops

A Tall Order Foundation provides Relapse Prevention, Life Skills and Self-reliance workshops and training materials to any individual in any current contracted facility, future foundation owned facilities, or any other governmental, non-profit or privately owned facilities. Other service provider facilities include but are not limited to homeless shelters, half-way houses, community or church organizations, and sober living facilities. These workshops and materials are provided free to every individual in these facilities.

Low-income Housing

We will also provide future low-cost housing to individuals through foundation owned, as well as current and future contracted housing facilities through government agencies, non-profit organizations or private housing owners. Revenue from foundation owned or other organization housing contracts will continue to further the work of our mission as a Private Operating Foundation.

1b - Organizations Benefiting

Life Skills Training Workshops

A Tall Order Foundation provides Relapse Prevention, Life Skills and Self-reliance workshops and training materials to any individual in any other governmental, non-profit or privately owned facilities or organization. Other service provider facilities include but are not limited to homeless shelters, half-way houses, community or church groups, and sober living facilities. These workshops and materials are provided free to every individual in these facilities.

Low-Income Housing

We will also enter into negotiations to provide future low-cost housing property management services to other organizations including government agencies, non-profit organizations and private housing owners. Revenue from these property management services will continue to further the work of our mission as a Private Operating Foundation.

Consultation Services

Consultation services may be provided to other organizations that desire to build similar successful programs and facilities throughout the United States. Depending on circumstances of organization; travel cost, temporary housing, and materials provided may be reimbursable by the requesting organization, who would benefit from our services, materials, programs and/or consultation. Revenue from these consulting services will continue to further the work of our mission as a Private Operating Foundation.
